

CE   CE, UL certification, made in Germany

New high-quality toroidal audio transformer model with great features and improvements for audio applications. Our experience, know-how of winding toroidal power transformers for audio gear and an ongoing effort to improve the winding technology - together with Roydo Transformers Germany, we worked out a new high-end transformer model line. The new audio toroidal trafo models are CE and UL certificated, have a special soft winding and an in-built trafo shielding sheet developed by Don-Audio that improves performance and prevents for hum. Customized toroidal transformers even in small quantities are possible, just contact us. and visit our online-shop www.don-audio.com
